

Ellsworth Native Serves as Congressional Intern in Moran's Washington, D.C. Office

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Congressman Jerry Moran announced that Allyn Denning is serving as a congressional intern in his Washington, D.C. office. Denning is a 2004 graduate of Ellsworth High School in Ellsworth, and a 2009 graduate of the University of Kansas in Lawrence.

“Congressional internships offer Kansas students a great opportunity to learn about Congress and the legislative process,” Moran said. “Allyn is doing important work for Kansans and gaining experience that will help her serve others throughout her life.”

While at the University of Kansas, Denning studied Political Science and International Studies. She also traveled to countries such as the Czech Republic and South Africa, to gain a better understanding of their political systems.

“Comparative politics and public service have always been of interest to me,” Denning said. “Working in Congressman Moran’s office has been a terrific complement to my studies at the University of Kansas. I’m honored to work for Kansans and have learned valuable lessons that will help me in the future.”

In the office, Denning assists Moran with legislative and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas.

Denning is the daughter of Peter and Linda Denning of Ellsworth.

Kansans interested in applying for a Congressional internship in Washington, D.C., Hays, Hutchinson and Salina, can learn more by visiting Congressman Jerry Moran's website: www.jerrymoran.house.gov. The deadline for the summer 2010 term is Friday, March 5, 2010.
